SATURDAY, SEPT. 12, 1857. THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE EXHIBITION.—Last evening the somewhat threatening aspect of the westher deterred many from venturing out, and, as a consequence, we had not the pleasure of meeting so large an attendance at the Mechanics' Institute. There was however a goodly crowd, and we have neser witnessed more real enjoyment in any compa-The band played its most delightful and stirring airs, until the hall seemed charmed with the beautiful melodies. Ladies and gentlemen thronged the avenues in pleasant couples, or else were seated in comfortable chairs enjoying quiet, private, and delicious tete-a-teles. The investigation of the many thousand wonderful and curious and attractive articles on exhibition consumed the time of most. We do not know a finer room for the study of the material progress of the age and the advancement of science than this affords.

The exhibition of the Institute remains open but one week longer. Before its portals are closed nove of our citizens, and none of our visitors, should neglect paying a visit to the hall. It will prove amply

This is Saturday night, and we expect to see a large attendance. It is an occasion of general leisure of which all should avail themselves by attending the fair. Personal curiosity is there gratified information is increased, and a worthy institution benefitted.

Stoves, Castings, &c .- Messrs. Wright & Bridgeford, of Sixth street, near Main, have long been known as leading and successful manufacturers. From small beginners they have become prominent among our wealthiest, merchants, and now conduct one of the most extensive business establishments in the city. The display of their manufactured goods at the fair is very fine. It comprises every possible article that can be made in a foundry, with the necessary fittings. An inspection or their arti cessary fittings. An inspection or their arti cles will satisfy any one of the durability, general excellence, and elegance of the workmanship of their wares.

A Fine Still .- Messrs. John Metcalfe & Bro. exhibit two of the finest copper stills that we have ever seen. The workmanship is almost perfect, and the copper glistens as if it were gold. These gentlemen are practical mechanics, have been long engaged in their present business, and understand it thoroughly. They are now located on Main street, a few doors below the Louisville Hotel.

Set of Diamonds .- Messrs. Vogt & Klink, of Third street, near Market, manufacture the most magnificent jewelry to be found in the country. They are gentlemen of great skill and taste. A set of diamonds just made, worth six hundred and fifty dollars, is fit to glisten upon the brow or breast of any queen in Christendom.

ACCIDENTS BY MACHINERY .- A friend in Hardin ounty writes us that Mr. Wash. Smith, living near Garnettsville, whilst feeding a wheat thresher, had his hand caught and horribly mutilated. It was immediately amputated. The accident occured on the plantation of John R. Pusey.

On the 9th inst., at the farm of S. D. Winterbow r, a negro man of John Howlett, whilst employed in moving a wheat thresher, had his left leg blown of by a fragment of the cylinder, which had

A few days ago a similar accident occurred on the arm of Mr. Wheling, near Grahampton.

The Hannibal (Mo.) Messenger mentions the finding of the body of a man in a hemp field. He had several memorandums in his pocket book, which ted "Salt River, March 25th, 1857." The acins are for blacksmith's work, one of which is against G. R. Cross, and one against Matthews & Gross. These are for the years 1856-7, and contain various items. There are also charges against two gentlemen of the name of Sanders. The hair of the head and whiskers is black. The deceased had been well dreseed.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river was at a stand yesterday with 3 fect 10 inches water in the canal. The weather is very warm. A shower fell last evening. Only four steamboat arrivals yesterday-the Superior from Cincinnati and the Statesman from Henderson. The Emma Dean and Alvin Adams got in about 9 o'clock last night. The Fashion passed Evansville vesterday, and will, on her arrival here, lie up.

The D. A. Given will leave the city wharf for Cairo and Memphis. She has been thoroughly repaired and newly painted, and is now in capital con-

The Hickman will also leave for Memphis. She wants passengers only.

The Time will leave for the Tennessee river to day positively.

Capt. Jacob Haslep's fine sternwheeler, North Star, will be found at the wharf this morning, bound for St. Louis.

The Moses McLellan is the mailboat for Cincinna ti to-day. The Dove is the Kentucky river packet. The Emma Dean is the packet for Carrollton. We are indebted to her clerk for a copy of the manifest. Of the river above, the Cincinnatti Gazette of vesterday says:

terday says:

Above this point steamers are running hard aground at all the shoal places, with every probability that a few of them will remain aground for the season. The John Gault is in this predicament. Her pilot run her hard aground on Mustapha Island, fifty feet from the channel, and there she "sticks" for the remainder of the season. Her freight has been reshipped ou lighters. The water is rapidly leaving. The new steamer Fulton, Capt. Brickel, is stuck at the Sisters, and the Jacob Poe is laid up at the foot of the Island. The Endeavor is laid up at the foot of the Island. The Endeavor is laid up above Wheeling. The S. P. Hibbard, Mary Cook, and Belmout got over by putting part of the cargo out, and sparring over. The Baltimore is hard aground at the foot of Buffington, with her wheel broken. The Parkersburg is also aground in Buffing. The Economy came down yesterday with a good trip, and reports the Ohio above in a lamentably low condition—so badly, indeed, that Captain Beltzhoover has decided to lay up his boat here until there is more water. there is more water.

The Alvin Adams arrived from St. Louis last night. We are indebted to her attentive clerk, Mr. Priest, for a memorandum, which we publish. The Adams reports no boats aground below. There were 5 feet water in the channel, and the channel was washing out.

Memphis and White River Packet .- The steamer Return, now at Pertland, which has lately changed owners, will run throughout the season as a regular packet between Memphis and White river, making a trip every ten days. She is undergoing thorough repair. Messrs. Sherly, Bell, & Co are the agents iu this city.

The Republic .- This large and elegant steamer, commanded by Capt. Jeff. Stewart, will leave Cairo for New Orleans on Tuesday after the arrival of the cars. Passengers taking a boat to-day, or the cars on Monday, will reach Cairo in time for her.

NEW GERMEN BAPTIST CHURCH .- Oue of the nost interesting and important enterprises of which we have had occasion to take notice for some time is the completion of a small but handsome cdifice on the corner of Chestnut and Hancock streets, for the use of the German Baptist Church. It comprises a commodious audience room and a residence for the pastor. When the congregation shall become sufficieutly numereus to justify it, a fine building will be crected fronting ou Chestnut, a leaving the present house for a parsonage.

The church is a neat structure, fitted with gas and all the modern convenionces, and will prove an attractive place for the large German population of that section of the city. It was erected by the selfsacrificing efforts of a few noble men, and will long remain a noble monument to their liberality in a

The dedication exercises will take place one week from to-morrow-Sunday, September 20th-when services in German will be had morning and night, and in the afternoon Rev. Dr. Everts will deliver an appropriate discourse.

The cost of the lot and building has been over three thousand dollars. About one-third of this remains unpaid, but we cannot doubt that the debt will be speedily liquidated by the friends of evangelical religion.

Police Proceedings .- Friday, Sept. 11.-Docket Cases .- Geo. Miller, carrying concealed a deadly weapon. Not guilty. Wni. Slaten, keeping a disorderly house. Fined one cent.

Catharine Beeler, for assaulting Mary Uhler. Fined $11.

J. Shepard, adultery. Not guilty. John Noland and James Curran forfeited their re ognizances. Theodore Satterwhite, assault on John Howard. Fined $20.

Thos. Allen, for interfering in the arrest of Mike Harmon. Not guilty.

A LIBRARY FOR YOUTH .- The young people connected with the Jewish synagogue on Fourth street, with the noble purpose in view of fostering their intellectual resources, have established a Library Society. It is open to both sexes for the trivial sum of five cents per month. The books are well selected, and we notice that those who have access to the library are particular in taking out for persual those which are not only interesting, but instructive. In connection with the library, weekly discussions are had, in which very considerable talent is evinced. This is an enterprise in which we should all feel deep interest, as it is a direct preventive of vicious social propensities, and leads to the cultivation of the nobler attributes of the heart and head.

A young man named John H. Carr, of Harrisonburg, Va., was arrested on a charge of robbing the U. S. mail in the car of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in March last.

Mr. Henry Mercer, of the Jeffersonville Railroad, desires us to state that he is not the Henry Mercer mentioned in our police proceedings yester-

Seborne Smith, while tending a wheat thresher in Garrard county last week, had his hand and arm caught in the machinery and was so seriously injured that he died in a few hours.

We are indebted to Frank Madden, at his popular depot near the Post Office, for Harper's Weekly. It is an excellent issue.

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] TO MISS S**,

A POETESS OF NEW YORK CITY, Whom I have never met save in the form of a beautiful the affair. spirit, scattering fresh flowers along the pathway of earth's weary pilgrims.

Where shall we meet? not in the crowded mart. Where loss and gain absorb the hours of ilfe, Where sordid fetters chafe the anxious heart, And every breath is sultry with its strife; Not mid the throng of fashion's devotees Where faisehood dupes us with her painted smile, Where vain amhition drops on abject knees,

To win a hand, though gold his aim the while; No, no, not thus we'll meet; no, no, not there, But I will teil thee both the when and where.

We'll meet within the flow'ry halls of spring, When dawn approacheth with her dainty light. As, stealing forth upon her dewy wing She 'scapes from out the dusky arms of night: When pensive stars close up their limid eyes, And sink into the clear etherial deep,

As golden spray is thrown upon the skies
By Sol's swlft steeds climbing the azure steep. In nature's temple neath its dome of air There, sister spirit, I will meet thee there.

We'll meet upon the shore when weary day Sinks down exhausted on the ocean's breast, And watch his flushing as it fades away Behind the purple clouds far in the West; We'll clinh with evening up the em'rald heights To meet pale twilight as she wanders down

Reneath hersilv'ry veil, by fairy sprites Loop'd to the crescent in her starry crown. And when the vesper bell invites to prayer, Then, sister spirit, I would meet thee there, LOUISVILLE, July 21, 1857.

New England and Western New York were visited by a white frost on Monday morning last. The thermometer in some places stood at 40. The only instance we see mentioned of damage to the crop is the following from the Hartford Times, of the 8th:

The tobacco growers were busy yesterday in cutting and lousing their tobacco, in anticipation of a frost. Early this morning—two hours before daylight—many were up and busy in securing that which was still left, in the belief that by gathering and hanging it before sunrise it would save itself by

In spite, however, of all efforts to prevent it, the loss in tobacco must be considerable.

A vast amount of this crop has been safely housed. More tobacco has been groups this. ed. More tobacco has been grown this year in Con-necticut than ever before. A single house in this city has sold, this season, more than two tons of twine for tying tobacco.

The corn, we judge, has, as a general thing, got beyond the reach of this frost. In some sections of the State, however, it may have been hurt.

Antumn has opened zlorloudy, with her dreamy sun shine, her cool moonlight nights, her rich fruits and lovely thited flowers—yea, she comes the very "queen of American seasons." And as she kissed Niagara and smiled upor hill-side and sea-shore, the "minions of fashion" and seek ers of pleasure rushed from river and glen, mountain and lake, beautiful valley and sea-girt isle—from the halls of "vanity tair"—within this furse wilderness of "marrhice squares," mingling again in the constant bustle and the many excitements of this Pabylonian metropolis of ours. Broadway is asain thooded with the sucell of hoops and the stir of Mammon.

The streets seem more crowded than usual even for this usy season of the year. It has become unite a feat to rose Broadway without being run over, losing your last, or rose large that the street of the street of the street dearner of being gently elevated upon the pole of an om-iting, and then unceremoniously directed, en haste, for the sidewalk, virong side up with care. And in the wide of this eternal jar and clash the lover of social quiet and he'sweet savor of rural life; curses the roaring din that treaks his peace, exclaiming in the words of Mrs. Flunt:

Such a terrible —— I never!

Peace, or rather, no reace of pocket, caused a greater panic, however, than anything else could produce. The heart of the people is moved by nothing so much as by the winkings of the "golden god" in the "crisis" is over, and Wall street stands firm again in her own proud sovereignty. There are no new failures, and the press have ceased their hue and cry, to the great comfort of certain small traders and the country people generally.

The trail of Mrs. Canningham, alias Burdell, is still the absorbing theme. There is always a great rush to the court-room whenever anything is to be said about "that biessed baby." The argument in the case of habeas corpus was closed on Friday last and submitted to Judge Peabiesed baby." The argument in the case of habeas cor-purs was closed on Friday hast and submitted to Judge Pea-body, who will render his decision to-morrow. She will probably be admitted to ball. Shakespeare was freely ad-ministered in the case to the last, much to the chagrin of that "hiessed baby." By-the-bye, that wondrous prodigy is on exhibition at the American Museum, and is drawing crowded houses day and night. The proprietors of that establishment are about present-ing to the public a new pleasure, one that promises to be very interesting, entitled the "Aquarium," the beauties and success of which will be considered in due time; suffice it here to say—

"'Tis a glass case in fluid space, Where, over pebbies meedy, smail fishes piay." Where, over promes meetly, sman name play.

Hawthorn, the distinguished American author, having resigned the Liverpool Consulste, anticipates a good time in Italy for a few months, when he will return to his native land to educate his children, and as he has heretofore favored the public with the biographical romances, "Old Manse" and "The Scarlet Letters," it is to be hoped that he will present some new revelations touching the Consulster I see it stated in various journals that the funeral of the Rev. Rufus W. Grlawold, D. D., was largely attended Such was not the case. It was surprising how fow were present. Only seven carriages—twenty-eight friends in all, and solely two women, his widow and nurse, followed him to his last resting place.

THE LEXINGTON FAIR .- The Fair week at Lexington is an annual holiday for the country side for miles around. Old and young, rich and poor, grave and gay, men, women, and children of all sorts sizes, colors, and conditions, from all the adjacent counties and towns, are during this week assembled upon the Fair Grounds at Lexington, to witness the exhibition of the Fayette County Agricultural Society. The spacious amphitheater is filled to overflowing with Kentucky's fairest dangliters, and presents the appearance of a vast garland of bright and beautiful flowers.

The exhibition is very fine, but there are not so many entries as there have been at former exhibitions. It has been, however, highly creditable to the fertile resources of that most noble portion of our commonwealth. In many departments we must confess the Lexington Fair exceeds the National Fair in this city in point of interest. It was at once a collection of the chief beauty and chivalry and of the unexampled stock of the State. Whatever was beautiful of Kentucky growth was to be seen there in the amplest profusion.

s certainly correct. It applies more forcibly to Europe than to this country:

The decline in sngar seems to be caused by a real diminution of the consumption. The stock was short, and had the consumption held on, the high price would have been maintained. It has fallen because it had become so dear that people would, to a considerable extent, go without it rather than pay for it. It will be so with cotton. The law is universal. The process is slower in the case of cotton. because there are large investments that demand the raw material, and for a time without reference to the nsumption of the manufactured article. The manufacturers, by their policy and practice, keep up th price of cotton. But when they cannot get back a new dollar for an old one, except by selling their goods at such a price as repels the purchaser, then the same operation which has brought down sugar will compense upon cotton the same operation which has brought down sugar will commence upon cotton.

The people will not pay more than a certain price for cotton goods, and cotton must be sold at such prices as will enable the manufacturers to supply their goods within the limits that the consumers impose. When they cannot do this, the mills necessarily must stop, and then cotton, going through the same process that cotton goods have suffered, falls by the operation of the same lrws. by the operation of the same lrws.

COMMERCIAL MATTERS-The New York-Journal of Comerre, of Wednesday evening, says of the money market: There is a little better feeling in the street, but the pressure continues, and borrowers have a hard time of it. There is no change in rates of interest, and very little raper is selling below 15 % cent.

The stock market is more depressed than ever, and it is difficult to effect large sales at any price.

The Cheinnati Gazette, of yesterday, asys:

SHEET IRON RAILROAD CARS .- At the recen Railroad Convention in New York, Mr. Lamothe the inventor, exhibited the model of a sheet iron car, for which he claimed great superiority over the wooden car in many essential particulars. The chief recommendations claimed for it were lightness, great strength and durability, and safety to life, as in case of collision or smash up there would be an entire absence of splinters, which usually do the greatest share of damage in case of accident to wooden cars. They are one-third lighter than an ordinary frame car, and can be made to weigh less than seven tons. The cost of construction is represented to be nearly the same as other cars. The inside of the cars is lined with cushions for the protection of passengers in case of accident. It was stated that a number of sheet iron cars, of frailer construction than the one on exhibition, had been in use on the Baltimore Railroad for about five years, for freighting purposes, and that in one instance one of these cars loaded with 80 barrels of flour was precipitated down a steep embankment without doing it material damage.

The United States inspectors, who grant licenses to steamboat pilots, have issued summonses to all the pilots in St. Louis who signed the contract not to work for less than $500 per month, to appear before them and show cause why their licenses should not be taken from them for entering into an illegal conspiracy. These men refuse to take apprentices to learn the river, and thereby prevent competition. They associate themselves into a close corporation. Now, when steamboat transportation is coming into competition with railway transit, the prosperity of the interest to which they are attached depends upon the economy of its management, and for them to attempt so unreasonable an exaction from those who are struggling to maintain the competition, is as short-sighted as it is unjust. No class of men connected with the river commerce has been so liberally paid as the pilots.

CANNEL COAL .- The editor of the Fredericksbug News, writing from Kanawha county, says that cannel coal abounds in those mountains, and it must prove an Aladdin's lamp to its owners. It is almost pure carbon, and burns and blazes with a brilliant light. It is broken up in small pieces and put in a large iron retort; heat is applied, and the result is a steady stream of dark olive-colored oil. The coal, after the oil is extracted, makes the coke used to heat the retorts. The oil is purified into a pure white color, and produces wax, which makes excellent candles, while the refuse is used as grease for machinery, &c. Nothing of it is wasted. A bushel of coal makes two gallons of oil. This company turns out nine barrels a day-342 gallens. It costs 16 cents and sells for $1 a gallon in Cincinnati.

THE HOG CHOLERA.-The Henderson Commercial gives an account of the sad havoc made by the hog cholera in the Bend, near Henderson. Scarcely a farmer has escaped destruction among his stock. Many persons have lost every hog, both young and old, and some have but two or three left to tell the devastation that has taken place. The symptoms are not those of the hog cholera, but more nearly resembling the quinzy. This disease cannot be attributed to strychnine, as there are no distilleries in the vicinity. A farmer in Perry county publishes a remedy which he says is effectual suffering pig upon his back, forces open his mouth, and applies a small quantity of tar to the roots of the animal's tongue. He pronounces it a certain London, Saturday.—The Indian overland mail has arrived, with full details of the late disaster. It appears that the catastrophe at Cawnpore is believed to have occurred on the 24th of June. In consequence of Sir Hugh Wheeler being mortally wounded, the force had accepted the proffer of safety made by Nena Saheb and the mutineers. Nena allowed them to get into the boats, and then a fire was opened upon them from the banks of the river, and all were destroyed.

Other accounts state that the wives and children of the officers and soldiers—consisting of two hundred and fifty persons—were taken into Cawnpore and sold by public auction, and were treated with the highest indignities and barbarously slaughtered by the inhabitants. It is hoped that a few escaped. It is said that Nena Saheb has more than one hundred European prisoners in his hands whom he intends to hold as hostages. They are probably the remains of Gen. Wheeler's force. Gen. Havelock, who left Allahabeb with two thousand Europeans, had attacked and totally defeated Nena Saheb and his force.

CONFLAGRATIONS FROM THE SOLAR RAYS. Hamburg letter of the 15th says: "The extremely hot weather we have experienced during the last few days has done much for the harvest in the surrounding districts, and, excepting some cases of sudden illness, has been productive of great benefit to all classes of the community. A striking proof of the power of the sun's rays was observed on Thursday forenoon at the laboratory of the Civic Artillery Annuunition Store, in which the pyrotechnic artisans carry on their labor. While M. Bergholst and his wo sons were employed in their vocation, and using very possible precaution to shield their operations the rays of the sun fell on a round piece of glass through the only small window exposed to its effects and set fire to some paper close at hand and burnt a hole through the boards on the upper floor of the building, through which it reached some ammunition below, which immediately exploded. Fortunately the stock of ammunition was not large, a portion having been previously removed to the powder inagazine close by, and the prompt application of water stopped the progress of the burning embers. The pyrotechnist and his two sons had just time to escape, and the only personal injury sustained was by one of the workmen, who was slightly burnt. The alarm, however, was for some time considerable for the safety of the adjoining powder store. Accounts have been received that at the town of Bojanuvo, in the province of Posen, in the district of Kroben, situate between Nawietz and Lissa, and through which the Breslau and Posen railway runs, a very large fire happened in a ded. Fortunately the stock of ammunition was not sen railway runs, a very large fire happened in a similar way on the 13th inst., on which occasion 350 out of 420 houses were burnt down, thereby causing 2,000 persons to be entirely houseless

MASSACRE NEAR JERUSALEM .- A letter received MASSACRE NEAR JERUSALEM.—A letter received in London from Jerusalem, of the 1st ultimo, announces that disturbances had taken place in the neighborhood of that city, attended with serions loss of life. Twenty-two men and two women were killed. The peasants fought with great desperation, armed with swords, contrary to their usual custom.

The mountaineers in the suburbs of Jerusalem had become greatly excited, and the inhabitants of the adjacent villages were preparing to take part in the quarrel. It was feared that, in a few days, the conflagration would become general. The Transit Route.—A new phase is said to have arisen in the affairs of the Nicaragua Transit Company, which looks more like a reality than anything yet talked of. The report is, that a company has been or is being organized under the old Canal Grant from Nicaragua, the principal movers in which have been Mesers. Joseph L. White and Charles K. Garrison. It is said our government fully supports the organization, and that the oping Charles K. Garrison. It is said our government fully supports the organization, and that the opinion of eminent counsel in this city is decidedly in favor of the validity of the old grant, as it has never been repealed by the Nicaraguan government. The parties to this new concern are said to be Messrs. C. K. Garrisou, Joseph L. White, H. G. Stebbens, John P. Yelverton, kichard Varick, and, perhaps, Com. Vanderbilt. What the Webster party will say, is yet to be heard, but many incline to the belief that there will be an amalgamation of all the interests concerned. [From the Journal of Commerce]

FRESH MILK—A NEW DISCOVERY,—The name of Gail Borden, Jr., has become historical. Notwithstanding the youthful suffix to his patronymic, Mr. Borden has been before the public for many years, and always in the same character. Like other great inventors, he has not always realized pecuniarly success, but his methods of preserving human food have never failed when fairly adopted, and he has long been regarded as a public beuefactor. Three or four years ago, Mr. Borden showed us a sample of condensed milk which he had been preparing, to be used in long voyages, and he was then sanguine of perfecting his discovery, so as to supply families in the city with country milk, brought from any distance, without a largely increased cost. We had missed him from the city for some time; but it seems he has not been idle, and we have the pleasure of chronicling his return, as enthusiastic as ever, and completely successful in his experiments.

cling his return, as enthusiastic as ever, and completely successful in his experiments.

Mr. Borden's process is exceedingly simple and ought to be universally popular, for it is exactly the reverse of the system adopted by the milkmen, of which there is so much reasonable complaint. The chemists divide 1,000 parts of pure milk into 840 of water, 40 of butter, 45 of sugar of milk, 40 of casein, &c., to which the milkmen add from the town pump from 300 to 600 equal parts more of water, using in the weakest dilution a little salt, and sometimes a trifle of chalk, the former for taste and the using in the weakest dilution a little salt, and some-times a trifle of chalk, the former for taste and the latter for complexion. Mr. Borden simply evapo-rates 750 parts of the water, leaving all the useful properties of the milk still remaining. This is done in a vacuum, over a very slight heat, leaving as the residue a thick paste, which can at any time be recon-verted into milk by restoring the water. The advantages are obvious. The cream will not rise to the surface in the absence of the water, so that when the latter is restored the milk is essential-that when the latter is restored the milk is essentially as new and fresh as when first taken from the cow. As the bulk after condensation is only about one-fifth of the original fluid, the expense of transportation is greatly lessened, while all disturbance of the elements of the milk is avoided. Hermetically a support the company of the elements of the milk is avoided. cally sealed, it can be carried any distance, sea or carried any distance, sea or land, and will keep perfectly sweet. In open cans or bottles it will keep through cool weather without souring, and without any danger of separating the cream. In warm weather it will remain sweet much longer than ordinary milk, and upon ice may be kept for several weeks. One teaspoonful of the condensed article to four of pure water will make condensed article to four of pure water will make rich country milk, precisely as it comes from the cow; one to five will make a richer compound than is ever, unless in rare cases, brought to the city while one to seven will make "a fair article," such as is usually sold for the best Orange county.

as is usually sold for the best Orange county.

Mr. Borden has established a condenser (capable of reducing 5,000 quarts per day) in Litchfield, Conn., one of the richest grazing districts in Connecticut, where the unadulterated article can be bought for two cents a quart. The heat is applied under a covered kettle, from which the air is exhausted and the water thus evaporated. The remainder is then brought to market. The reader will perceive this is not manufactured milk there will perceive this is not manufactured milk, there being nothing added to it and nothing taken from it except the water. It will be sold in the city at 32 cents a quart. This will bring the cost, when restored by the addition of four times its bulk of water, to, say sixpence a quart. Any one who wishes to use a cheaper article has only to add another quart of water; it will then be richer than most if not all the milk distributed from carts about the city. Of course the addition of only two or three parts of water leaves it a rich cream, and the pur-chaser can vary the quality at his pleasure.

Chaser can vary the quanty at his preasure.

Very few persons are aware of the extent and importance of the milk trade in this city. The statistics compiled for official use, a year or two ago, showed that the annual cost to consumers here was about $3,500,000; and it must now exceed four millions. The difficulty connected with the trade grows out of the rapid decomposition of the milk in its natural state, and its great bulk compared with its first cost. Both these are overcome in Borden's process, as the water may be evaporated at the daiand added again when it is wanted for use. The expense of the milk is preserved from the damage it suffers, in its natural state, from long-continued agitation. The samples we have seen are unexceptionable, both in quality and taste; and we regard the experiment as entirely successful.

MATRIMONY.—In the selection of a husband, a young lady should look for truth, propriety, and decorum rather than for station, wealth, or good looks. Courtship allows her all the opportunities necessary for this study of man's character; so, however deficiency. lightful that probationary period may be to the imagination and susceptibilities, it is filled with serious responsibility. There is an interest attaching to it that should impart thoughtfulness, benignity, and refinement to the whole being of man and woman. As the threshold of a new life it should be guarded against all sinister influences—all insidious tenden. against all sinister influences-all insidious tendencies, all weakness, and all liability to fall into tempttion. Courtship cannot be too pure, or its course too strictly watched. It is the sweet communion and inter-blending of two souls, previous to their sacred marriage and unity in this life and the life beyond. Its very trivialities ought to be fenced around with respect; and no indecorous jesting, no weak levity, no dark suspicions, no want of faith should be allowed to cast their grim shadows on its path—all should be bright, hopeful, and pure as the flush on the virginal cheek after the rosy lips have received the first kiss of kind and respectful love. Marriage, too, should be emblematic of the union of mind to mind and heart to heart. It is well to build matrimonial happiness on physical sympathy—better still of heart extending to heart; but the mental adaptation and a similarity of views, relative to the adaptation and a similarity of views, relative to the great principles of action, and of the relations to society, should also be taken into consideration, for the bodily attractions must fade, and the ardor of affection may cool, or be diverted into another channel, therefore, the mind's purposes must be elevated and stable, and its energies will be found to diminish but slowly with increasing years. A marriage founded upon this mutual understanding has little chance of being wretched; both parties ever finding the self-same mental beauty they once admired, and constantly deriving from each other the benefit of mutual interchange of thought, sympathy, and endeavors. and endeavors.

ELOPEMENT.—A young sprig from Kentucky, who has been in this vicinity for several months, became acquainted with the daughter of one of our citizens living a few miles east of town. A mutual came acquainted with the daugh!er of one of our citizens living a few miles east of town. A mutual attachment soon sprung up between the parties, which resulted in a proposition of marriage. The parents assumed the responsibility to reject the suit, and the disappointed lover was notified to discontinue his visits. A secret interview was obtained, and the young parties made engagements to elope. Accordiugly, on Sunday night the damsel had succeeded in getting from under the paternal roof, and had scarcely reached the arms of her lover, a short distance from the house, until a discovery of the flight was made. An alarm was immediately raised, and all hands, women and dogs, were in hot pursuit. The fugitives sought refuge in a cornfield, where they accidentally became separated, but the cohesive power of attraction soon brought them together again, but not without losing 'time' in the race.—The pursuers were now so close upon them that they were compelled to drop their luggage, which consisted of two carpet-bags containing the outfit of a two weeks' cruice. They managed to elude their pursuers, however, and have doubtless before this become the victims of matrimouy.

Rumored Flonement—For several days there has Rumored Elopement.—For several days there has been a rumor circulating in legal and hotel circles as to an elopement from this city. The story runs that a member of the bar, who some years since went from Massachusetts to Kentucky, where he married, and who some years ago came to Chicago to reside, lately gave out that important business would require him to make a visit to Europe. Preparatory to his departure he took his wife back to Kentucky and left her with her parents till his return. He then came to Chicago, on route for Europe, and shortly after left this city. In the mean time a married lady who had been boarding at the same house with the lawyer differed with and separated from her husband, and took board elsewhere. She, it is said, left Chicago three days after the lawyer, but managed to overtake him at Buffelo; at that place the two parties passed as husband and wife, and as such proceeded to New York. We do not know any more than this of the affair, and what we have stated is the story related by those who know both parties. Rumored Elopement .- For several days there has

DRESS Goods.-In this department of his trade we feel confident in saying that G. B. Tabb, corner Fourth and Market streets, excels any other Western establishment. His stock of Silks includes everything new and handsome, among which are some very elegant fringe flounced Robes, brocade Bayadere, striped Silks, a large assortment of plain and plaid Silks, side trimmed Robes, &c. His stock of Embroideries is such as will please the fancy and suit the purses of all. Commencing with English thread lace Sets, and embracing some of the har somest Valenciennes Lace Sets and the richest honiton do. to the found in any market. We presume it is sufficient to say that his supply of Worsted goods is complete. He has printed De Laines that are beautiful, Bayadere Poplins that are handsome, and Victoria Plaids that are extra. He requests that you call and examine for yourselves, as he takes great delight in making an exhibition of his merchandise. s12 j&b

POLICE PROCEEDINGS .- Satu. day, September 12 .-Only one d. d. could be discovered yesterday by the police and that was Peter Daily, who was sent to the workhouse for three months, having been drunk and disorderly on Jefferson street.

Charles Trout, Lazarus Schaub, and Bettinger, charged with assaulting C. Meyer on the "Point" several nights ago, were examined. The testimony was not sufficient to convict them, but they were each held to keep the peace for three months.

The court room has been thronged all morning with more than a score of painted, brazen, beflounced, and be-hooped conrtezans, awaiting trials on indictments for keeping disorderly houses.

CLOSING OF THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE-EXHI-BITION FOR COLORED PERSONS .- The Board of Directors of the Mechanics' Institute have resolved to close their annual exhibition on Tuesday night, September 15. Upon that occasion the premiums will be announced by the secretary and the valedictory address delivered by Charles D. Kirk.

Monday night has been set apart for the exclusive visit of the colored population. They will all be heartily welcome, and will find their attendance upon the exhibition not only pleasant but profitable.

A fire broke out about 12 o'clock to-day in the stable of Mr. J. T. Hyatt, on Second street, near Market. The stable was an old frame, and before water could be procured the fire had made considerable headway, communicating to Dr. Cummings's office on one side and a frame building on the other. The loss is not much, as but little else than the buildings was burned. We could not learn how the

TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF GWYNN PAGE, E8Q At a meeting of the members of the Bar and officers of the Courts of the city of Louisville, held on Friday, Sept. 11th, 1857, Hon. Henry Pirtle rose and made the following the Courts of the city of Louisville, held on Friday, Sept. 11th, 1857, 100. Henry Pirtle rose and made the following remarks:

GENTLEMEN—The purpose for which we have assemble it this morning is one that has reached us all, and we have come here to show our respect for the memory of one with whom we have often met in pleasant intercourse in this forum. We admired him for his learning, for his high bearing, for his talents, for his fathfulness and zeal—in short, we looked upon him as the elevated lawyer, the honest man, an exemplar in our noble profession. Yesterday, painful news announced to us the death of Gwynn Page. He died in Virginia a few days ago.

That we may express our estimation of the deceased, I move this meeting be organized, and that the Chancellor be appointed chairman for that purpose.

Whereupon, Ilon, Caleb W. Logan was called to the chair, and Will, R. Hervey appointed Secretary.
On motion of P. B. Polindexter, Esq., the Chairman appointed the following gentlemen a committee to prepare resolutions proper to the occasion, viz: P. B. Fwindexter, N. Wolfe, G. A. Caldwell, B. Ballard, and H. Pirtle, Esqs.

The Committee, after retiring, reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, viz: WHEREAS, We have received Intelligence that Gwynn Page, Esq., of California, late a member of the Louisville bar, died a few days since at the While Sulphur Spring a in Virginia; Therefore, belt Resolved, That though for more than four years past Mr. Page has been absent from Louisville, we have user forgotten him; and that the news of his death is received with heartfelt sorrow. Resolved. That this dispensation of Divine Providence has bereaved us of a cherished friend and brother lawyer, with whom in times past we maintained relations of a character which give to our grief at his death an unusual poign-ancy—that society has lost an example of social elegance and nrbanity, the country auseful citizen, and the world a good man.

Resolved, That who has lost an example of social elegance and good man.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere sympathies to his ereaved relatives. bereaved relatives.

Resolved, That copies of the proceedings of this meeting be presented to the various Conrts of this city, with the request that they be placed upon the records of said Courts; and the several papers of the city be requested to publish the same.

on motion, the meeting then adjourned.

Masonic.—A half-past two this afternoon, the Free Masons of this city went in procession from Masonic Hall, on Exchange street, to St. James Hall, where very interesting ceremonies are being performed as we go to press. The occasion is in honor of the session here of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templars of the State of New York. Present at this encampment are some of the most distinguished of the brotherhood of Masonry, of all ranks in the numerous organizations of that Order. A Grand Patriarch's Cross of Gold, richly ornamented and set with diamonds, is to be presented to the Hon. Wm. Blackstone Hubbard, Grand Master of the Brownware of Knights Tamplars of the of the Encampment of Knights Templars of the United States. This gentleman is from Ohio, and is endeared to Masons everywhere by his gentle and manly character, and his long and steadfast attachment to the institution. Sir Knight John Simons, of New York, is to be presented with a costly gold jewel of office.

The presentation addresses are to be made by Sir Knight Robert Morris, of Kentucky, assisted by Hon John L. Lewis, of this State, Hon. Benjamin B. French, of Washington, D. C., and others, with the usual ceremonies of the Order. The occasion promises to be one of much interest. The Society of promises to be one of much interest. The Society of Knights Templars numbers 137 bodies, with an aggregate of 5,000 members, who are represented at this encampment by many of their brightest luminaries .- Buffalo Con
